

Mental health & disability sector workers who identify as LGBTIQ+ are getting together to have a

PRIDE

chat

When: 6pm - 8pm, Thursday 19 July 2018

Where: HACSU Office, 7 Grattan St, Carlton, VIC 3053

Who: Anyone who identifies as LGBTIQ+ and works in mental health, disability, or AOD services. Non-union members welcome.

Why: Because discrimination at work happens all the time, and we have the power to change that. This is your opportunity to hang out with other LGBTIQ+ people, have a chat about what it's like to be an LGBTIQ+ person at work, what challenges you face and brainstorm about how we can work together to fix them.

Plus - FREE PIZZA!
